Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

I cannot afford and do not want to pay more for my telephone service! I urge you to reject a flat fee proposal that would change how contributions are made to the Universal Service Fund. I know that this proposal would make my current service unaffordable.

Under the flat fee proposal you are considering, people who make few long distance calls would pay the same as people or businesses that make many calls. I use my service for highway/road emergencies. With 2 small children, I feel safer with the service. In other words, low-volume and primarily residential customers would bear the same universal service fund burden as a high-volume customers. This is wrong!

I use my wireless phone for safety, security and convenience. I don't want to lose these benefits so that big businesses can pay less than their fair share. I urge you to reject the proposal to move the USF collection system to a flat-fee.

Keep the USF Fair!

Sincerely,

Nikki Moore
